COMMUNICATED. The wearing of great breeches, in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, was carried to very abmatter, till they brought them to an enormous size. They resembled woolsacks; and mous were obliged, in a public place, to raise seafold for the seats of these beaux. So it a season that the modern expansion of onth the ladies, is not a new thing by some handred of years, and great breeches! comhandred with the divine and beautiful skirts wites of Literature-vol 11, page 457.

DIED.

In Washington, on the evening of the 27th ultimo, Mrs. ANN SIMMS, in the 63rd year of her age. The deceased had been for thirty years a consistent member of the Baptis Church, in Alexandria and Washington, and was truly an example of the vital influences of religion, as well in the cheerful submission with which every trial was met, as in the blessed hope which it is at once the privilege and duty of the christian to cherish. Through much suf fering she reached the term of life, dying as she had lived, calmly, meekly, trustingly; and has left to her chil ren, whom she loved tenderly, as she was tenderly loved in return, the well grounded assurance that the event which they nourn was to her but the dawn of a boly and happy immortality.

At the residence of her father, near Leesburg. on the 4th ultimo MARTHA A. E STEVENS daughter of John and Roxana Stevens, in the 10th year of her age.
